Assistant Professor of Nursing

General Description
An Assistant Professor of Nursing is a faculty member who is responsible for the education of nursing students, development of the College of Nursing, and the advancement of his/her professional development.

Responsibilities and Duties
- Develops and delivers instructional materials to meet block outcomes.
- Teaches in the classroom, clinical/campus laboratory and clinical seminars in accordance with curriculum standards and outcome.
- Plans, implements and evaluates the nursing curriculum.
- Develops evaluation strategies and materials in accordance with block outcome.
- Functions as a group advisor to provide advisement and guidance for intellectual, personal, and professional development of assigned students.
- Maintains at least three office hours per week.
- Collaborates with other faculty, preceptors and clinical personnel to provide optimum learning opportunities for students.
- Plans, supervises and evaluates learning experiences for students in the clinical area.
- Performs pre-and post-conferences in the clinical area to help students integrate clinical learning with theoretical learning.
- Serves on university, college and/or Ad hoc committees.
- Participates in nursing and university services and activities.
- Maintains expertise in his/her specialty area, clinical practice, and in teaching methodologies.
- Maintains a positive and effective learning environment that promotes the professional development of students.
- Assists in preparation for nursing approval and accreditation visits.
- Develops and evaluates standards/criteria for the admission, progression, and graduation of students.
- Maintains collegial relationships with students and colleagues.
- Teaches in the classroom, clinical/campus laboratory and clinical seminars in accordance with the curriculum standards and outcome.
- Maintains effective relationships with clinical agencies utilized for clinical experiences.
- Recommend new equipment and software.
- Coordinate student activities

Minimum Qualifications
- Master's degree in nursing from an ACEN or CCNE-accredited institution.
- Demonstrated current clinical experience in area of specialty.
- Teaching experience in nursing at the postsecondary level (preferred). If none, attend seminar for nurse educators.
- Ability to meet challenges of adult students with diverse backgrounds.
- Holds current, active RN license in Utah.
• Effective verbal and written communication skills.

Work Conditions
• Work is primarily indoors, but requires the incumbent to be in an outdoor environment when traveling between campus buildings, off campus, and to Roseman University campuses and facilities located in the Salt Lake, Utah and Davis County regions.
• Performing duties and attending events outside the normally scheduled work hours (evening and weekend) occasionally occurs and is required.
• Traveling off-campus to a local, state, regional and/or national event, as well as travel to other Roseman University campuses or facilities occurs occasionally and is required.
• Incumbent may be exposed to frequent noise caused by telephones, office machines, and nearby oral communications among university personnel and/or students.
• Any additional area-specific requirements.

Required Physical Abilities
• Ability to bend, stoop, reach, stand, move from one area of the building to another on a regular basis, sit and use a computer for a long period of time,
• Manual and physical dexterity needed to operate a computer keyboard and handle paper documents,
• Sufficient near vision acuity to read information appearing on computer display screen, in hand-written forms, and printed on paper,
• Adequate hearing and verbal abilities to communicate effectively in person and by telephone,
• Ability to lift and carry a stack of forms and documents weighing up to 25 pounds
• Any additional area-specific physical requirements.

Reports to: Associate Dean, College of Nursing